

Editorial Message

Dear Colleagues,

I am glad to celebrate with you the re-launching of the Pan Arab Journal of Neurosurgery (PAJN), that used to be well-known among neurosurgeons from throughout the region, as well as from around the world.

The PAJN is the official journal of the Pan Arab Neurosurgical Society (PANS); this Society was founded by General Prof/ Khalaf Al-Moutaery in February 1994. Three years later, in 1997 Al-Moutaery successfully founded and published the bi-annual PAJN to which he served as “Editor in-Chief” until he passed away in 29th January 2018. His death was devastating to everybody in the Middle East and the Arab World.

It gives me great pleasure to be the new “Editor-in-Chief” of the PAJN, in-order to continue the journey Al-Moutaery had started. The PAJN is re-launched to bring neurosurgeons the best information and research in a clinically useful format, in order to improve health care delivery to patients from Arab countries and all over the world.

The Journal is bi-annual peer-reviewed, it had been founded as an in-print journal; in order to follow the advancement of technology, I upgraded the Journal to have an electronic version as well with the new online ISSN: 2735-4482

PAJN is an open-access journal; all published articles can be freely downloaded, because our aim is to enhance the advancement of science and medical education. The Journal would be accessible through our address: <https://pajn.journals.ekb.eg>

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you most sincerely for your interest and support of our Journal.

Finally, your feedback about the journal would be most welcome.

Best regards,

Editor-in-Chief
